

#BridgingtheGap Twitter Chat

AMERICASAVESWEEK

Join us on Twitter!

With Special Guests: @americasaves, @militarysaves, @moneytalk1, @jerrybuchko

Tuesday, February 27, 2018
3 - 4 PM ET

With so many obstacles to saving, how do we help bridge the savings gap for individuals and families, helping to turn savings goals into successful realities and small steps into lasting financial well-being? Join @AFCPE on Tuesday, February 27 during America Saves Week / Military Saves Week to discuss ways to overcome obstacles to successful savings and offer suggestions and tips on #bridgingthegap.

- Q1. What are some of the barriers or gaps that stop people from meeting their savings goals?
- Q2. How can someone who is living paycheck-to-paycheck begin to accumulate savings?
- Q3. The retirement savings landscape is changing. What are ways to accumulate long term savings without access to a traditional employer retirement plan?
- Q4. Similarly, what savings tips would you provide someone who has an irregular income?
- Q5. How do we set our children up with early options to save to help them build sustainable wealth?
- Q6. What savings advice do you have for families who are providing not only for children, but also for their aging parents?
- Q7. Why is a spending plan or budget important when building savings?
- Q8. How do we bridge the savings gap for people of color, closing the gap on wealth inequality?
- Q9. What's your number one savings tip for individuals and families who are taking the savers pledge this week?
- Q10. If you have questions about saving, where can you turn?

