Editorial Policy

The purpose of Financial Counseling and Planning is to disseminate scholarly research related to the financial decision making of individuals and families, professional financial education and financial counseling techniques including both content and delivery, and the education of professional financial educators and counselors. Research concerning all audiences, both U.S. and international, is encouraged.

Manuscripts are blind peer reviewed by members of the editorial board and by additional reviewers selected by the editor. The Association for Financial Counseling and Planning Education® reserves the final right to accept or reject submissions and manuscripts.
